

I look all around me and see plexiglass.
Then I look at my friend and drink out of a hydro flask.
Sorry you couldn't hear me, it's because of my mask.
I'm just waiting for the day to end, Yeah.
I hop on the bus and get into my seat and start yelling out, YEET!
I talk to my friends but I'm not that loud because I'm stuck in this crazy crowd! OH!
I get off the bus and thankfully I'm home, ready to hop on the phone!
Oh! I woke up the next day tired and fired up!
I hope my dog isn't going to get riled up!
I hop on the bus and talk about Among us because that's all I can think about cause ...
I want it just to be the weekend but we're squeezed in the deep end.
I thought this year was going to be fun, but this year is just a son of a gun!
